foreword

Something of the virile challenge whispered to Rudyard Kipling's explorer has impelled the student to enter Calvin College. A still voice drifted to him down the low wind:

"Something hidden. Go and find it. Go and look behind the Ranges— Something lost behind the Ranges. Lost and waiting for you. Go!"

And it brooked no refusal.

For the typical student there is immense satisfaction in re-discovering old blazed trails. When the markers grow faint and the obstacles increase, each careful step ahead excites a sense of conquest. Progress, for him, becomes identified with achievement. For only a select few is reserved the vision of "unimagined rivers" and illimitable plains."

Their struggle shifts from one precarious plateau to another, and when the temptation to pause and look down grows overpowering, the voice returns with its insistent whisper, "Go!"

For everyone there is a climactic moment, when all that has preceded fuses in a single triumph. Perhaps that moment comes with the presentation of a diploma marking the end of a successful college career. But it may be realized just as completely by an undergraduate in the mastery of a difficult passage of music, in the publication of some literary contribution, or even in the possession of one long-coveted friendship.

This We Believe

ords such as faith, providence, and belief, are bruited about rather freely these days. These words are supposed to stop hostile ideologies dead in their tracks. An aura of vagueness surrounds their use, however, for some suppose that, by sucking these words empty of content, they will provoke a greater agreement among men. The result is a faith without conviction, a belief without commitment.

e at Calvin have also used these words rather frequently this year. We speak of Forward in Faith, United in Faith, faith of our fathers. May these phrases never become mere cliches and shibboleths to us. May they ever possess vitality and cogency as we apply them to our Alma Mater, for these phrases nicely describe our living tradition, our binding unity, our future hope.

- he apostle Paul gives vigor to such words as faith and belief when he writes, "The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach; that if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." To make faith and belief live calls for an intimate knowledge of the word, commitment of the mind, surrender of the heart to God by his grace, and confession with the lips. Such should be the believing of every one who is or was a Calvin student. Therein we find our unity.
- his volume of Prism attempts to present the community-unity which should prevail at Calvin. It contends that neither students or student activities should be completely compartmentized but, rather, that these reflect facets of all of Calvin College and of total student life. Such a proposition has validity only where there exists a binding unity amidst some diversity. At Calvin that unity is supplied by faith, belief, commitment, confession. It is a total surrender of each and all to the word of faith as Paul defined the word.
- he aim of the college is to give young people an education that is Christian in the larger and deeper sense that all the class work, all the students' intellectual, emotional, and imaginative activities shall be permeated with the spirit and teaching of Christianity." Does that quotation "ring a bell"? It is taken from our college "Bulletin." What it means is: We aim, by God's grace, to live the word of faith.

Calvin College is the embodiment of your grand-father's and my great grandfather's courageous faith and persistent determination. Faith conceived; determination built. And Calvin College became not a mere collection of buildings providing teaching—learning facilities for a staff of dictatorial instructors and a regimented student body, but an educational capital erected on the stable foundation of truth and governed by the principles of our Reformed heritage. These principles have influenced every area of study and directed all efforts toward a single objective. That objective is the absorption of man in the glorification of God.

This is basic. But Calvin College represents much more. It is the sum total of my impressions, experiences, associations—all unique only because they have happened to me. Transplantation from home surroundings to an academic environment has called for radical adjustments, and elastic adaptability. It has involved shouldering new responsibilities, and enduring some embarrassments. But the appeal of gaining advantageous factual knowledge and the intellectual stimulation of re-thinking, evaluating, and criticizing others' thoughts have compensated for periodical discouragements. The real value of mental development is not to be reckoned in dollars and cents but in potential usefulness.

Calvin College is this, and more. It is the witness of the discipline of conflict and the impact of decision. Out of the insecurity of loosening home ties grows a healthy self-reliance; out of exposure to both the novel and the commonplace in life emerges the power of judicious selection. Competition gives impetus to the vaulting ambitions of the careerist. The source of support for our self-expansion is a group of sympathetic counselors offering encouragement, yet restraining intemperate action. We make mistakes, sometimes trivial, sometimes serious. Problems may call for special assistance, often the best remedy for an offense is discovery. Ultimate personality progression is a vital concern of our school, for it will be an important factor in determining our effectiveness in the world.

The new Commons Building is a symbol of vision and progress. It is the evidence of the founders' vision—a vision stemmina from the Reformation, developed by John Calvin, perpetuated by the Christian Reformed Church. It is the material progress of an educational structure, whose cornerstone is Christ and whose chief end is the glory of God. From a modest beginning in a Grand Rapids parsonage our college has grown to a campus of five large buildings.

But progress was passible only because of loyalty to the ideals of Christian education. There was the loyalty of the ideal of Christian education. There was the loyalty of our own school, of our individual churches, and of our denomination at large. We gave because we knew there was a need. And there was a need because we wanted adeauate facilities for our expanding college. We gave of our material means in order to reap spiritual and cultural benefits.

The Commons Building signifies the integration of the various phases of college life. Housing a spacious student lounge, club offices, a snack bar, and a dining hall, it is the social and recreational center of our bustling life. Here we meet old friends and make new ones. It is here that we reminisce about the memories of the past and project our ideals for the future. At coffee-time we engage in lively chats or in profound discussions.

The Commons Building is the expression of student living, an expression unified, yet diverse. It provides the balance of the collegiate many-sided life

nited in Faith"—motto of the twa-million dollar Calvin Expansion Campaign, is a phrase we have all heard a great deal of this year. But Calvin College also has another sort of expansion campaign—a permanent campaign—a campaign which began with its birth, which has grown steadily until the present, and which must continue, with your help and mine, until it has fully achieved the goals of its tremendaus vision.

s foundation for this comprehensive vision the founding fathers of Calvin established principles—certain spiritual and intellectual principles. They said that spiritually Calvin was to be different. They said that among the shifting sands of the madern warld Calvin was to be founded an the Rock of Life. They said that among the turbulent skeptical minds of a warld at sea Calvin was to look upon the Christ and walk upon the waves.

hey said mare. They said that Calvin was not to be a place to get rid of parents' supervision and conduct a nightly curfew bottle with the darmitory matron. They said it was not to be a place for playbays. Rather, they said it was to be a place for training leaders. Well they knew that goals could not be achieved with fumbling hands and muddled heads. Well they knew that intelligence consists mainly of hard work. Therefore they gave us professors—professors to train us in the hard art of thinking, professors to a quide us to that aleam of comprehensive wisdom.

hese things, then, constitute the foundation of Calvin's great expansion campaign. These two principles—spiritual and intellectual—form the spirit, the atmosphere, of the education which you here receive.

hat is that school spirit of Calvin? It is, naturally, a good many things to a good many different people. But if there is anything at all far all of us together it is the atmosphere of trained bodies, saved hearts, and educated heads in which all of us together live.

his, then, is the permanent expansion campaign of Calvin Callege. Why expansion campaign? Because that is precisely the aim of the education which Calvin offers—expansion: Expansion of the student spiritually by deepening his faith in the Christ. Expansion of the student intellectually by deepening his insight into truth.

This campaign was an achievement in organization. Many are to be congratulated for their help and the whole denomination is to be thanked for its generous response.

The students did their share by pledging $36,341.00 during the campaign.

From roots grown deep in a common faith springs the sturdy trunk of general knowledge. And from this stalwart stem arise the varied branches of individual pursuits. We are one in interpretation, many in expression, one in echo, many in voice. Here we share the inspiration of a choir's rich harmony and learn to create our own music, compose our own songs. Here we relive stirring drama and the mellifluous poetry of the masters and attempt to create with our own pens. Here we admire the precise logic of the ancients, analyze the radical theories of the moderns and begin to appreciate the dignity of our own Christian philosophy. This, too, is one.

Unity, integration—but not uniformity—are our inheritance. No genuine student leaves these halls without having imbibed the essential learning and principles basic to the education of all who have preceeded and of all who will follow us. Bible, history, music, philosophy, literature—these provide the vital elements for the initial budding and continued growth of our several careers. They are the source of the physician's sympathy, the teacher's understanding, the artist's sensitivity, the businessman's judgment.

Unity, integration, are also our contribution. Through coordination of ideals and practice we encourage initiative. By the complex nature of our development itself we draw new, earnest seekers to our unifying root. The budding unity is the branching reality. Through many we are one.

events

The word occurrence is a general term for that which happens; the word event more specifically denotes a happening of some significance.

The student world is largely unlike the worka-day world. One of the few similarities is that they both consist of, in terms of Edna St. Vincent Millay, "the same . . . thing over and overagain." The student often feels he is located halfway between tedium and apathy, and when in this frame of mind, the Friday night banquet or the class picnic are the only bright spots in sight. Events assume more than their intrinsic share of importance—whether it be a formal dinner, an evening program, a club outing, or a Thespian play—and in later years, the memory of the ever-present pressure and pain yields to fond reminiscence of the Big Events.

The scientist at Calvin goes about his work with a special purpose. In his studies and researches he is not satisfied merely to learn causes and effects and a number of semi-related facts. He is seeking rather to fit the data of science into a meaningful pattern: he is working to build a truly Christian philosophy of science.

The universe is to him a wonderfully vast, intricate, and fascinating system, one whose laws are distinctly meaningful as part of the revelation of God. He applies himself diligently to the task of discovering and interpreting those laws. He observes the stars and learns the forces which govern their steadily circling galaxies. He counts the ingredients of the sun and finds its elements repeated on earth; he takes them into the laboratory and refines and compounds them; he probes the invisible structures of the atom and measures the vast energies hidden there. He watches a speck of life creeping doggedly across a glass slide, and he abserves while small green dats join water, air, and sunshine by their own secret process. He studies all this and more, seeking out the fundamental rules of nature.

These principles are not the end of the Christian's inquiry, however. Knowledge of the universe is only a means to a nobler end: the glarification of God. To the scientist who is a Christian, the orderliness, the rich variety, and the ultimate mystery of nature are reflections of the wisdam and power and majesty of God.

This year it was "We'll see you again at homecoming." It all started long before the spider caught the fly and left him hanging midway between the first and second floors. We'd spent weeks in preparation. Let's see, there was 50 cents for crepe paper and ten for nails—and after many hours of hard work our displays were ready.

Student Council nominations for the Homecoming Hostess were posted on the main floor, and when the returns were in we found we'd chosen lovely Dot Reus as our Hostess and Lenore Anderson, Marge De Nooyer, Jessica Beets, and Carol Homan as her four sparkling attendants. Dot and her attendants were presented to the student body by Stu Sisco, one of our first string men, at the pep rally in the auditorium, Monday afternoon.

Monday evening—the big game, and though we spiders didn't catch the Wheaton fly on the basketball floor we had a marvelous time. Alumni, students, and friends returned to school for coffee after the game. A student committee served coffee in the Commons Building which was open for the occasion, though it was not yet com-

The Main Building was open to all who wished to see the displays and posters put up by the various clubs.

Thus we remember our second annual Homecoming.

It has been said that nothing is more mysterious and incomprehensible to a sane adult citizen today than a Russian ambassador and a modern student. Both are unpredictable in behavior, quaint in appearance, and represent an ideology foreign to their neighbors. But here the analogy ends. For no one is quite so adaptable to new situations and flexible in acquisition of new ideas and friends as the college student.

At Calvin, a typical lounging group of ten students may be composed of representatives from ten states in the Union, one or two nationalities and ten opinions of the coed passing by the door. E PLURIBUS UNUM. But even though a freshman from Kansas is stupified by the strange ejaculations of his New Jersey classmate, there is, between them, a bond transcending narrow limits of regionalism.

A pre-med, equipped with lab coat. tweezers, and a half-dissected turtle ages home to bump his head on the low ceiling of the apartment which he shares with a pre-sem, who is lost in contemplations of an ontological graument after a friendly libe from the general college student one room away; who lies one bunk above a sociology major sleeping with an open book. HORDES AND HOUSES, slowly sliding to the floor with the up and down breathing motions of his abdomen. A subtle suggestion from the calculating math major on the bottom side of the sun lamp above the dining table stirs the group to assertion of hunger pains and resolutions of amelioration. They are off to the dorm (or Commons), up to the chowline, and back to dress for a basketball game, a night in the library stacks, a symphony, a club meeting, or a date with the belle of the dormitory.

REGRESSES.

And, as the Chimes Tower tolls the knell of parting day, five members in a common cause add skim milk to black coffee and intensive study to frequent reverie, all a preparation for another day and a coming bluebook.

There, on the surface, is student living; below, between pains of growth, doubt, and reassertion is student life.

The dorm cafeteria, in spite of its mechanical inadequacies and lack of capacity—which makes this the last year of its functioning existence—has acquired an atmosphere uniquely its own, intensified by that slow, definite growth of associations accumulated with each day's coffee. Mom and Pop Schreur operate what is blushingly admitted to be one of the more indispensable institutions on the campus. Acquaintances are made in every corner of the campus; but healthy, solid, robust friendship is nutured and enjoyed only at "coffee time."

Registration means planning a semester's wark with the guidance of competent professors.

The library provides a large share of the source material the student needs.

From classroom and from college halls
Arises one refrain,
The Calvin spark we once have caught,
Shall never die again.
Our Calvin, Alma Mater dear,
We raise aur sangs far you;
Maraon and Gold will bind our hearts,
In friendship deep and true.

Up and cheer a stirring cry, Calvin Callege, Hail! Up, all students and, alumni, Calvin College, hail! Shout in chorus, send the echoes Bounding to the sky; Calvin Callege, Calvin College, Hail to thee, all hail!

calvin friendship song

Calvin, Calvin, sing we all to thee;
To dear Alma Mater, we pledge fidelity;
Forever faithful to Maroon and Gold,
They name and honor we ever shall uphald.

Be loyal ever to the faith of old;

oratorio

Over 500 Oratorio members met weekly during this past year to practice under the direction of Seymour Swets who has directed the group for more than 30 years. Last fall they again performed the much loved Messiah, and this spring they performed the Creation by Hayden, breaking a fifteen year tradition of Elijah performances. Capacity audiences came to hear the proclamation of God's glory in song. The people of greater Grand Rapids are appreciatively aware of the Society's contribution to its community. Much of the Oratorio's success is due to the vigorous efforts of Professor Swets. His contagious enthusiasm and dynamic personality have endeared him to the thousands he has directed and the vast audiences who have come to hear the Oratorio Society's performances through the years.

Mr. Cayvan and music students examine records from the Cayvan collection.

cayvan collection

The CAYVAN COLLECTION OF RECORDINGS was given to Calvin College a year ago by Mr. L. L. Cayvan of Grand Rapids. The collection, one of the largest in the country, contains vocal, instrumental, and diction records. With few exceptions every symphony, oratorio, opera, cantata, concerto, string quartet, suite or song that has ever been recorded in America, Europe, or Asia is included in the collection. This winter Mr. Cayvan added more recordings, making the total number of records in the collection more than 10,000. The gift is the largest to have been made to Calvin in 20 years, being valued at approximately $35,000. The records are accommodated in the Fine Arts Room of the Library. It has been equipped with the finest in "high fidelity" equipment; booths, cabinets and shelves have made the room complete.

The 1952-53 season was the busiest in the history of the Calvin College Concert Band. Concerts in Muskegan, Kalamazoo, and Grand Rapids and participation at rallies and basketball games helped to keep the 60-piece band busy during the first semester. The band also took part in the ceremonies connected with the laying of the cornerstone of the Commons Building, at which time the band gave the first performance of the "Calvin Commons March" written by Jack Grotenhuis, class of '53.

The second semester was touched off by the band's brilliant performance and marching demonstration at the Homecoming Game at the Civic. This was followed by the band's third annual Spring vacation tour, this year in the Mid-West. On May 1 the band was host to 100 selected instrumentalists from Christian High School bands at the Mid-West festival at the Civic.

The Calvin College Chamber Orchestra once again participated effectively in the two aratorio performances at the Civic and also took part in the all-school music festival in September. The unusual feature of this season was the orchestra's presentation of a chamber music concert in April.

When one hears music with other people there is an intangible osmosis of feeling from the audience. When one sings music with other people, there is a rapt feeling of communion with others—a moments sharing of timeless beauty—a merging of minds as one in the clear tonal patterns of great music. This was the experience of sixty members of the A Cappella Choir as they presented some of the greatest music ever written. The year was climaxed by the rendition of Bach's, Jesu Priceless Treasure at Calvin's first Bach Festival. This was followed by the choir's annual tour which this year took them through Ontario Canoda, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Washington, D.C. and Ohio. Under Professor Swets' dynamic direction the A Cappella Choir achieved the great satisfaction of genuine accomplishment.

An estimated five million people hear the Radio Choir every Sunday morning on the "Back to God Hour" radio program. It was reported that in one Sunday broadcast the choir has a larger audience than Caruso had during his whole lifetime. Rev. P. Eldersveld, the radio minister, calls the choir the framework for the Spoken Word.

The chair has a constant responsibility, for it must provide music for all 52 weeks in a year. Recordings are made of the choir for the Sundays they are not in Grand Rapids and a special chair is selected for the summer.

Besides these weekly broadcasts, the 70-member chair has sung in chapel, participated in the all-school music festival, and toured the Dakotas and Jawa.

"A verse may find him who a sermon flies, And turn delight into a socrifice," forms the motto of the Calvin Literary Review. The Review, published three times each year, is designed to give expression to the emotions and convictions and spiritual sensitivities which throb through the veins of the young artist at Calvin. Its intention is to have the sons and daughters of Calvin College establish in the world of beauty and feeling the immortality of a Calvinistic culture. The Review is not meant to a Calvinistic culture the dedicated spirit in which it is conceived, the writers at Calvin hope that it may stir sensitive men to a hymn of praise as well as to a song of contentment.

The Thespian members have worked hard this year to present two excellent stage productions. The first was Victoria Regina, by Lawrence Houseman. The members of the cast truly proved their aualifications for this unusual production. The drama called for a very large cast as well as a large stage to present it effectively. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Batts the presentation was excellent and lived up to the reputation of all Thespian dramas.

The play given in the spring was also well done. The Admiroble Chrichton, by Barry, was a good example of comedy, which the Thespians do so well. The first scene introduced a wealthy, English family. They find themselves later in slavery on an island, under the command of their former butler. Many complications arise, but in the end the family is restored to its former rank and position, and the butler is once again nothing but a butler.

As in former years, the speech department of Calvin was very active. The Forensic board, which is made up of faculty advisors and student managers, were busy arranging speech meets for Calvin students. Martin Vande Guchte, the student manager, assisted Prof. Berghuis and Calvin Bolt in planning the oratorical contest. Hannes Meyers was the student manager for all debates which took place on our campus and also made arrangements for those held elsewhere. Elaine Vander Wilt, as student manager for interpretive reading, worked with Miss Janssen, a new faculty advisor, in arranging poetry and prose readings.

Calvin's oratorical contests were again held in the first part of December. In the women's division Dot DeLano took the top honors, while first place for the men was given to Martin Vande Guchte. In the spring these winners went to Ferris Institute where they represented Calvin in the Thespian

The Peace Oratorio Contest was held early in December. Dorothy Ooms of the Women's division received first place, while Calvin Bolt placed first in the men's division.

On March tenth the Calvin contests for interpretive reading were held. This year the contest was held in prose fiction. The first of May the winners were guests of Hope College who played host to the other Michigan Colleges in the State Interpretive Reading Festivol.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With the loss of three important players, a veteran coach, and a twenty-one game schedule slated for the team, Calvin fandom questioned the forthcoming basketball season.

Filling in the gap between the departure of retiring coach, Chuck Bult, and the arrival of coach-elect, Barney Steen, was Prof. John Tuls. He is to be commended on a job well done.

Graduation claimed two mighty Knights—Duane Rosendahl and Mel De Stigter. The veteran Stuart Sisco was sidelined by injuries the entire season. Rosendahl's pivot position was jointly shared by Paul Newhof and Gord Kamps. Garris Timmer and Rog Hamstra did bang-up jobs filling in for Sisco and De Stigter. Rounding out the starting five were to high-scoring seniors. Butts Kool and Rog Postmus.

The Knights copped all the home games played at Burton gymnasium. Three big home contests were played at the spacious Civic Auditorium and all three were defeats for Calvin. First we lost to our traditional rival, Hope. A wild home-coming crowd witnessed the second loss at the hands of Wheaton. Finally, in a charity contest for Netherlands' flood relief, we succomed to Detroit Tech. All other losses were suffered on the road. The team finished the season with a creditable 14-7 won and lost record.

Undoubtedly, the highlight of the season was our revenge victory over Hope at Holland. With confidence and spirit, the Knights sent the proud M.I.A.A. champions down to a stinging defeat and endeared themselves to every Calvin fan.

Pounding the hardwoods with unusual basketball poise and skill, Calvin's Frosh basketball squad sent team after team down to a smashing defeat. Behind the consistent scoring of Kok, Ezinga, Broekhuizen, and Boersma, they trampled such highly rated teams as Kalamazoo, Hope, and Koop's Heating of Holland, losing only in the return meeting with Hope, 69-66.

The Prism staff feels that Coach Dave Tuuk deserves a big round of applause for his fine work in his first season at Calvin. Using the excellent material with which he was supplied, he turned out a well-rounded squad that has seldom been equalled in strength by previous teams. Great things can be expected in future years with such a promising coach and supply of players available.

This year the Knighties had a very successful season, ending in second place in the Pin-Up League. They had a slow start losing two games in the first round.

In the second round the Knighties won four games and tied the league leaders, Eddie's Texaco.

At the end of their season the Knighties traveled to the Hope game. The girls had dinner with the victorious team.

Next year looks very promising since all of the girls will return.

Along with the opening of spring practice at Franklin Park, the crack of a bat against the "'ol horsehide" brings back memories of last spring's squad. During the 1952 season, although the Knights were drawing on such resources as the .500 hitting average of Stu Sisco and a powerful outfield, consisting of Mulder, De Stiger, and Kool, they couldn't find the right combination for a winning ball club. Even though the team was backed by equally great pitching performances by Talsma, Van Vliet and Jeffer, to make no mention of the many other hard working squad members, the defensive power was lacking and the season ended with the win column showing only 2 wins over against 8 defeats.

However, the blame cannot be placed entirely on the Knights' lack of strength. The opposition which they were forced to meet was of the highly superior type. Such highly rated teams as Ferris Institute, Grand Rapids, J.C., and Hope provided tremendous competition.

However, in spite of the lopsided win-loss record, the season indicated two very important things. The first is that the retiring coach, John Bratt, has done a most excellent job of molding his men into fine players and good sports. The second, and just as important, is the fact that last season's squad brought forward some excellent rookies who are expected to make a good showing in future seasons.

After a long, hard winter, track training began, first in the gymnasium, and then at Ottawa Hills field. The team was led by Coach "Chuck" Bult.

All home meets were held at Houseman field. Our first meet, at home, was with Hope and Calvin tasted defeat by a score of $85\frac{1}{2}-44\frac{1}{12}$.

The boys seemed to have learned their lesson in the first meet, for that same week they traveled to Kalamazoo and won a triangular meet with Kalamazoo and Hillsdale. The scores: Calvin-75 1/3, Kalamazoo-54 1-2, and Hillsdale 32 1-6.

The next week Calvin participated in another triangular meet. This was held at Holland with Hope the host and Calvin and Alma as visitors. A strong Hope team again came through with victory by rolling up 91 ½ points. Calvin was second with 63 ½ points while Alma salvaged 10.

The team returned to Houseman field for the last meet and walked off with a 75-56 victory over Junior College.

Three school records were broken. Ed Monsma ran two miles in 10:34.6 to break the record he set the preceeding year. This fleet Knight also broke the mile record by running it in 4.38. The other record was broken by Gary De Boer who ran the 440 in 52.3.

Up and Over!

Under Coach John Vanden Berg, the Knight turfmen finished a successful season with a 7 won, 5 lost, and 1 tie record. Victories were gained over Ferris (twice), Muskegon Community College, Aquinas, and Olivet. Double losses were suffered to our closest rivals, Hope and Junior College and one single defeat at the hands of Alma. Our only tie match came with Aquinas.

This season climaxed the collegiate career of John Vander Henst, possibly the best golfer to leave our holls. For the fourth consecutive year he held the number one position. The teams strength continued in the second position, held by Bill O'Hara. They were backed up by Jim De Haon, Gord Bos, Don Dykhouse, and Rog Nykamp.

All the matches are conducted on private courses. The home course was Green Ridge Country Club, on the Northwest edge of town.

Looking to the forthcoming season, we see three lettermen returning: O'-Hara, Dykhouse, and Nykamp. The intramural tournament in the fall brought out some good talent which can be added to this spring's team.

Kneeling: M. De Nooyer, M. Lieffers. Standing: M. Bielema, A. Vanden Berg, F. DeHaan, J. Bierens.

Due to inclement Michigan weather, the women's tennis team did not meet much competition. They had one match with Hope College, and lost. However, the girls under the coach Janna Poel had much fun and recreation in their practice sessions.

The Calvin Tennis Team, under Coach A. H. Muyskens, continued to uphold the tradition that the Knight net team is annually a strong one, finishing the successful "52" season with an 8-5 record.

Jim Doezema, Dewey Heetderks, Al Peelen, Rog Postmus, Duane Rosendahl, and Dave Schriemer held positions one through six respectively, and were ably backed by lettermen Bill Van Zytveld, Lou Hofman, John Cook, Tom Leavenworth, and Arnie Snoeyink. This team earned single victories over strong Alma and Lawrence Tech teams and double wins over Ferris Institute, Muskegon Community College, and Olivet, while suffering a pair of narrow defeats to Hope, two to strong Grand Rapids J. C., and one to Wayne University.

Three years ago, a memorial fund was set aside in memory of Joe Beré, a loyal Calvin fan who was killed in an automobile accident while returning from a game.

The faculty Athletic Board chooses the senior athlete who is most worthy to receive this award. The bases are athletic ability, personality, scholastic standing, Christian influence, and extracurricular activities. The winner receives a trophy and his name is engraved on a bronze tablet which hangs in the co-ed lounge.

This year the award was presented to Roger Postmus of Kalamazoo, Michigan. After a year of freshman basketball, Rog has for three seasons been a steady, reliable guard of the Varsity Knights and he has been one of the mainstays of the tennis team. He was voted class president in his senior year. Rog has been a loyal member of the Varsity Club. Next year, Rog plans to pursue his studies at the University of Michigan Medical School.

this is necessarily documentary. Each vear certain information must be recorded and the Editors are bound to recognize it. We try to include the important facts and events of a year and not hide the individual too much. But it is also obvious that such a document of the 1953 college year, as the Prism is, must necessarily reveal in broad sweeps the nature of Calvin College and its students in general; this is what we have tried to do. It has been our attempt at interpreting the essence of Calvin as a whole and in its various aspects. It is our desire that it will leave each · spectator with a clear impression of what we and our school constitute not alone as particular people and events but as a unified community.

CHIMES is:

The product of a week of worried haste, countless hours of hard work, and the last minute dash to the printer.

The expression of a student's mind taking a student's point of view. The news concerning everything from intramural basketball scores to the details of the Friday night program.

The avenue of opportunity. The written voice of those who shall lead tomorrow. The crucible wherein are stirred the ideas of the acquiring generation. The try-mould of student opinion. The faithful, the fearless, and the true exposition of what Calvin students are thinking.

One of the small things students can contribute to the never-ending effort of striving to make Calvin College strong—strong against the taunts of the worldly wise—strong in the faith of the fathers who founded this institution—strong in the faith of the Almighty God.

A young organization, the club is founded for all students with the teaching profession as their goal and common interest. Sponsored by Professors Floekstra and De Beer, membership is predominately feminine, with the fewer males making an invaluable supplementary contribution to discussions. One of the purposes of the organization is the formulation of typical pedagogical problems, articulation, and hypothetical solution. Conscious of the vital place of the teaching profession in society and of the immeasurable responsibility associated with a position in the field, members are reminded that strenuous effort and sincere dedication is imperative to preparation worthy of the "delightful task" to which they aspire. The club is neither a teacher factory nor an exclusive society of the erudite, and membership is open to all of the many students pursuing the education course. Activities are confined and directed towards member improvement, rather than school-wide entertainment.

The Girl's League, an organization to which every girl at Calvin belongs, has for its purpose the promotion of Christian fellowship and a spirit of unity among the women students. Of all of the League's activities, perhaps the most outstanding is its sponsorship of the fast-moving Get-Acquainted Roller Skating Party. This annual event serves to bring the shy freshman student into contact with his fellows and stirs a strong sense of solidarity, which, in all probability, will be persistently vitalized during the rest of his years at Calvin. Other of the League's activities include: the classic Punch Bowl, and the characteristically congenial Landladies Tea. This year the Girl's league broke with tradition, and in an unprecedented move, erected the Christmas tree in the Coed Lounge; the tree has been placed in the main lobby in past years.

Aptly named for the unity in variety of its members, the Privates Club is point in common for Calvin coeds residing in private homes. Members are aware of their obligations to the keepers of Christian homes who have tolerated their residence and they realize the importance of retaining their proper position in these homes, of establishing a genuine spirit of unity, and expressing proper appreciation for benevolence enjoyed. At biweekly meetings, a single topic was the center of attention for each session. Among these were: telephone privileges and courtesy, comparison of individual laundry problems; the relation of a coed to family members of different age groups, and the place and responsibility of a Christian girl in a pagan home. Burdened with all of the handicaps associated with the present housing problem, members were chiefly concerned with forming a common court of appeals and a center for social activity.

Girl's Fellowship, one of Calvin's more active societies, has had another successful year under their sponsor, Miss Catherine Van Opynen. The goal of this group is Christian fellowship; however, down through the years this fellowship has blossomed forth with the right fruits of Christian love, charity, and sociability. Part of each session was spent studying different books of the Bible, for devotional purposes as well as for discussion and interpretation. This year activities were somewhat hampered by an overcrowded calendar of extracurricular social events. Nevertheless the club did manage to maintain its individuality.

Members of the Calvinism Club devoted their time this year to a study of the INSTITUTES. At each meeting a paper was read by a member and an animated discussion ensued. Attempting only to make peripheral observations rather than exhaustive investigations of Calvin's great work, the club provided an outlet for the thinking student to supplement his formal training in theology and religion—which is the all of life—with the seasoning of the ideas of similar minds and youthful ideals. Characteristic zeal was directed and modified by Reverend H. Van Til, the club sponsor. Members seek to attain a richer concept of faith and life, a deeper sense and application of the world and life view as expounded by John Calvin. Membership is by officer selection and has become, in proportion to the number of aspirants, increasingly exclusive.

International Relation Club met bi-weekly at the home of its sponsor, Professor Drost. Always conscious of the impact of foreign affairs and international problems on every Christian's life, members attempted to approach each current topic with an unbiased search for fact in the chaos of the propaganda which prevails. Approaches to salient problems in the drama of modern history were evaluated for their practicability, as for their ethical validity. Digressions from the main point of discussion gained hilarious response from the members, who relished the relevant anecdotes and accounts of historical parallels by their sponsor. The Club is a member of the National Association of International Relations, and benefits from communications and news bulletins frequently received. Membership to the IRC is limited in number, exclusively male, and open to application by men with a minimum of semester hours in history, candid view, and moral integrity.

One of Calvin's most recently organized societies, the Sociology Club again enjoyed an active year. With Professor D. H. Bouma as club sponsor, this organization met to discuss current social conditions in the light of Calvinistic principles. With the theme set, the group debated timely issues, hashed over the relation and interaction of social institutions, especially the relation of the religious institutions to the others, and discussed the opportunities for work in the increasingly complex field of applied sociology today. Certain evenings were devoted to visual education and incidental entertainment, as the club members viewed several films on present day social problems. To study economic conditions prevelant in different aspects of industry is the purpose of the Economics Club. Comparisons are made by consideration of the view expounded by speakers from various economic levels and of diverse political attachments. Most often a time for questions and discussion follows. Membership is open to those male students interested in economics, in business administration, and practical political science. Official meetings served as milestones for many informal casual "coffee kletzes" prompted by a current rise in prices or change in money values. To add visual impression to acquired theories, the club made excursions to various enterprises throughout Michigan and Indiana. Observations of practice were tabulated for application to later problems.

The Engineering Club is composed of students who one day aspire to take their places in one of the technical slots in industry. The club, with a view towards this aspiration, attempts to study the more practical, work-aday applications of engineering. With Professor Wassink as sponsor, the club made several field trips this year, touring industrial sites all over Michigan, and profiting greatly from the experience. Club members also learn by doing, as each is required to devise an original scheme which might be used to improve an existing method of operation. These innovations are discussed at bi-weekly meetings, and oftentimes lectures are given by prominent men in the engineering field.

The Mission Club, under the able leadership of Dr. E. Y. Monsma, again realized its purpose: to give students a chance to participate in active mission work and to promote the missionary spirit at Calvin College. The club founders, cognizant of the fact that mission work is an unfamiliar area in the collective consciousness of the student, determined to make their contribution towards the Calvinistically sound interpretation and dissemination of the gospel. Organized twenty-five years ago for "the promotion of understanding and interest in clerical work," the Pre-Sem Club again this year strived to fulfill that challenge. In the evolution and development of the Club, however, an additional goal has been set—to ever remind the prospective pastor of the tremendous implications of his calling. This year the discussions, panel and otherwise, frequently centered around the problems that face the ordained minister, and the relation of the minister to the community as a whole. Membership is restricted to those who bear the club label. Under the able guidance of Professor Weidenaar, the club had another active and successful year.

This club affords a means of expression for those students who realize that philosophy is not merely another classroom activity; it is something which everyone possesses and which can be clarified by dialectic. In spite of any reputation to the contrary, the members seldom concern themselves with questions regarding the number of angels a pin-head can accommodate, and the discussions preserve some semblance of direction through the leadership of one of the members who presents a paper dealing with a fairly well-defined topic. The moderator, Prof. Jellema, provides invaluable guidance. Coffee and cigarettes, an essential part of every meeting, served to remind the members of more mundane commitments.

The Phytozoon Club, as its name implies, is a group organized for the purpose of delving into the mysteries of organic science. Meeting bi-weekly, this enthusiastic group discussed topics relative to the science of living things, saw films, and heard lectures by various specialists in the broad field of organic science. Since the course of study pursued by most of the club members is either biology or chemistry, the members spend much of their time in the laboratory; thus the social activities of such a club are necessarily limited. In spite of these adverse conditions, a restricted schedule of activities are maintained. This year the annual sleigh ride was the highlight of the social calendar. Under the sponsorship of Professors Bengelink and Karsten, the members profited and spent a successful season.

An evidence of Calvin's cultural awareness was the formation this year of the new Wamen's Literary Club. The study of literature in the classroom stimulated the desire for o more active and informal channel. This the club found in the chollenge of discussion.

Dr. Timmerman.

Five great foreign novels—WAR AND PEACE, THE BROTHERS KARA-MAZOV, MADAME BOVARY, LES MISERABLES, and THE WORLD'S ILLUSION—were chosen for discussion as well as seven great modern short stories. At each meeting a member prepared a paper as a guide for the group discussion.

Harriet Holwerda served well as president. Dr. Timmerman graciously guided the club in its discussions and helped the members to a more comprehensive insight. The club was composed of fourteen members.

The club did not realize all of its hopes but the members did benefit as they put forth effort. They only loid the foundation. The promise of fulfillment the club members pass on to those that succeed them, keeping the goal always before them—"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

The original Literary Club of Calvin College has shown the sign of quality—it has an imitator, even though the original is but two years old. The twelve qualified members, males exclusively, met every other week to discuss the general topics of "Greek drama" and "great novels." Dr. Zylstra, as sponsor, patiently moderated the enthusiastic discussions and redirected the frequent digressions. At each meeting one of the twelve members presented a critical paper, led the discussion, and served as host which function was of no little importance. A quote from one of the critical papers affords further insight into the character of the group: "Such is the OEDIPUS REX of Sophocles, a drama so beautiful and moving that only a lit club would be bold enough to take it apart."

The Women's Athletic Association is very active in providing athletic activities for female students. The girls participate in various and sundry sports, such as basketball of the female variety, tennis, softball, and volleyball. Besides this extensive athletic program, the board also sponsors several social activities, of which the most autstanding is the blue-jean party. However, to the casual Calvin male, the W.A.A. is best known for its service to hungary spectators at home basketball games. There the smartly uniformed club members circulate among the masses during half time, vending their wares, the tasty paddlepop.

This fast moving Calvin organization, the Varsity Club, again proved its effectiveness in promoting student interest in Calvin's athletic life. The members, letter winners of major sports, organized many activities on campus. Activities such as Homecoming, Y nite, basketball programs and Joe Bere award could only have functioned under our able advisors, Professors Tuls and Buter. One of the big events of the year was the Alumni Banquet for past letter winners. The event went over in grand style showing the coperation and spirit of the club. The club this year certainly did much in maintaining its high reputation.

The main office of Calvin is the broin center of the college. Our first contact with Calvin is made there. From it we receive the catalogue, application forms, and notice of acceptance. From this point on we are a member of a maze of files and so part of a living organism. It becomes concerned with each one of us and informs us of courses, conflicts, and conduct. The office also holds our secrets, but twice o year they are "broadcasted" to our families in neat windowed envelopes.

After four years of processing and distilling we are released but not forgotten since we then go on record as ALUMNI OF CALVIN COLLEGE.

Seated left to right: The Rev. Martin Mansma—Pres. Board of Trustees, Dr. Daniel De Vries, Mr. Henry Haltvluwer, The Rev. Jacab H. Bruinaage, The Rev. R. B. Kuiper—Acting Sem. Pres., The Rev. Gerritt Haeksema—Chairman of the Executive Committee, Dr. Wm. Spaelhaf—Pres. of Calvin College, The Rev. J. I. Halwerda—Sec. of the Ex. Camm., The Rev. Jacab T. Haagstra—Assistant Secretary, Dr. John A. Van Bruggen, The Rev. George Gritter, The Rev. Edward B. Pekelder—Vice-Pres. Absent: Mr. Benjamin Staal, Mr. Lambert Beré.

The Board of Trustees is composed of both clergymen and laymen from the entire denomination. It is in full control of Calvin's policies. The Board octs through two committees. The first has charge of all educational matters, as the making of teaching appointments and the examining of senior preseminary students. The second committee handles the financial matters. The Board of Trustees endeavors to keep Calvin College a stronghold of high academic standards and orthodox Christianity.

The most significant project of the Student Council this year was the raising of 36,000 dollars from the student body for Calvin's Expansion Campaign.

However, the Student Council as representing the student body of Calvin College also played its role in another sort of expansion campaign—a permanent campaign.

As foundation for this permanent campaign the founding fathers of Calvin established certain spiritual and intellectual principles. They said that spiritually Calvin was to be different, for among the shifting sands of the modern world Calvin was to be founded on the Rock of Life. They said that intellectually Calvin was to be a place for training leaders, for they knew that goals could not be achieved with fumbling hands and muddled heads.

These two principles—spiritual and intellectual—form the spirit of our permanent campaign, form the school spirit of Calvin College. They form the atmosphere of trained bodies, saved hearts, and educated heads in which we all live.

It is the attempt of Student Council to be instrumental in this permanent expansion drive of Calvin College—to be instrumental in the expansion of the student spiritually by deepening his faith in the Christ, and in the expansion of the student intellectually by deepening his insight into truth.

dorm board

The Dorm Board is a dormitory committee established for the purpose of making life in the largest girl's hall a more harmonious one. The Board, acting largely in an advisory capacity, tries to solve problems as and when they arise. They hear specific grievances, call a house meeting, and attempt to suggest remedial measures.

inter-dorm board

The Inter-Dorm Board is an advisory committee that deals with problems concerning Calvin girls in the dormitory, the cooperative halls, or private homes. Whether these problems concern study hours, late leaves, curfew time, or formals, the female student is always assured of sympathetic understanding from the Board as a whole. Every two weeks. or as often as these problems occur. the Board holds session. The Board is composed of the president of each cooperative hall, the president and a representative of the dormitory, the president of the Girl's League, the president and a representative of the Privates Club—and the Dean of Women, Miss Catherine Van Opynen.

Maintaining Our Identity

In the distinctiveness of Calvin College and Seminary lies their reason for existence. It follows that they have no more important task than that of maintaining their distinctiveness. I propose to name one factor that contributes greatly to the difficulty of that task.

There is rampant in this day an anti-intellectualistic conception of Christianity. Many Modernists and more than a few Fundamentalists keep mouthing the trite saying that Christianity is not a doctrine, but a life. The appeal of Modernist preaching is almost exclusively to the will, and the Fundamentalist preacher is out to get his hearers to accept Christ under emotional stress; but neither puts forth any serious effort to teach men the Word of God. In recent decades Modernism has veered to the irrationalism of the dialectic theology, while Fundamentalism continues, as heretofore, under the spell of continental Pietism and English Methodism, both of which deserve commendation for their reaction from dead orthodoxism, but condemnation for swinging to the opposite extreme, the depreciation of doctrine. The powerful ecumenical movement commits the unpardonable sin of sacrificing truth to pseudo-unity. A few years ago I participated in a six-day conference of some five hundred young people of a relatively conservative denomination. They spoke freely of their religious problems, but I cannot recall hearing a single doctrinal question raised. When I asked a minister of that denomination whether he and his colleagues made any attempt to indoctrinate their young people, he replied, "We used to". In our own Christian Reformed Church catechismal preaching and catechetical instruction are considerably less popular than they ought to be; theological debate is fast becoming taboo; and sometimes one can hardly help wondering whether our people are aware that the apostle Paul wrote a great many chapters other than the beautiful thirteenth of his first letter to the church at Corinth.

Let no one charge Calvinism with intellectualism. The truly Reformed preacher addresses himself to the intellect, the will and the emotions, all three, realizing that they are inseparable. But Calvinism stands in diametric opposition to anti-intellectualism It takes seriously Christ's great, though brief, commission in which He twice enjoins His church to teach. And it interprets Christ's statement that the truth will make men free to mean that sound theology begets godly living. According to Calvinism mere orthodoxy is not Christianity, but orthodoxy is essential to Christianity. Christianity so-called without orthodoxy is a sham, a lie.

If and when Calvin College and Seminary succumb to prevalent anti-intellectualism, their distinctiveness will be a thing of the past, and so will their reason for existence. If Calvin College and Seminary are to maintain their identity and to justify their continued existence, they will have to contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered to the saints. More militancy to them!

The Senate serves as the executive body of Corps. It comprises seven members. All the officers of Corps (Praetor, Vice-Praetor, Secretary, and Treasurer) are members of the Senate. In addition, each class elects one representative to the Senate. The Praetor, Vice-Praetor, and Secretary of Corps serve as the officers of the Senate.

In addition to serving as the executive body of Corps, the Senate prepares the agenda for all Corps Meetings and serves as liaison between Corps and the Faculty.

The Senate meets at least once each month during the academic year. Special meetings are called as often as exigencies require.

Formerly, it was the duty of the Praetor to coordinate the Sunday preaching assignments. Now—since the beginning of the academic year 1951-52—the Vice-Praetor functions in this capacity. The Praetor presides at the meetings of both Corps and the Senate and handles the other administrative duties. The Secretary keeps minutes of both Corps and Senate meetings and carries on all official correspondence. The Treasurer cares for and keeps a record of all the assets and or liabilities of Corps.

One of the oldest organizations in the Seminary is Nil Nisi Verum. Continuing its tradition the club engaged in excellent discussion of matters which have relevance for the minister of today. Study centered about two works; Emil Brunner's "Christianity and Civilization" and G. C. Berkhouwer's "The Providence of God." Both works provided valuable material for conversation and reflection.

The club meets bi-weekly at the home of one of its members. The guidance of Dr. Kromminga in our discussions was greatly appreciated.

The past year proved to be of benefit to all. It is hoped that such organizations as Nil Nisi Verum will long continue to enrich seminary life.

Without the capable direction of Dr. Henry Bruinsma, the Seminary choir apprehensively considered the possibility of continuing this year. Mr. Jack Van Laar, Instructor of music at the Reformed Bible Institute, provided the answer. Willingly and ably, he conducted the choir for the first semester, and stressed the importance of high quality standards for church music.

The second semester brought with it, the return of the maestro himself, Dr. Henry Bruinsma, Professor of music in the college. Under his qualified leadership, great gains were made in understanding the principles underlying Reformed Church music, in appreciating the sacred music of the past, and in cultivating a desire and ability to improve the music of our churches in the future.

Choir activities for the year included bi-weekly rehearsals, participation in chapel exercises, and rendition of public concerts. Through the recommendation of the choir, arrangements were made with the Seminary Faculty for the offering of an elective course in the Principles of Reformed church Music, open to all Seminarians. Dr. Bruinsma inaugurated the course the second semester of this year.

Nisi Domino Frustra adopts the policy of survival of the fittest in its consideration of relevant theological movements. The basic structure of modern Philosophic thought is carefully surveyed to discover which is able to survive and what each is able to contribute in the light of Scriptural revelation. This attempt is made in the warm atmosphere of lighted pipes, steaming coffee, and friendly homes.

The school year began with a presentation and analysis of the Philosophy of Vollenhoven and Dooyeweerd by the club's able sponsor, Dr. Henry Stob, and an attempt to understand its religious implications. During the remainder of the year the lucid presentation of theological movements by Hugh Ross Mackintosh, in his Types of Modern Theology, was critically considered. These major theological types included Schleiermacher, Hegel, Ritschl, Troeltsch, Kirkegoord, and Barth.

Members of the club wrote papers on the movements of theology under study and presided during the discussion. Meetings of the club were held every three weeks at the homes of those finoncially able to provide coffee by the gallon and sandwiches by the score.

As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you . . . Quo Pro Rege is an organization which affords its members an opportunity to study and discuss the implications of our divine commission. As individuals and as the body of Christ, our witness must be as a clear-sounding trumpet. So that we may have a dynamic and distinctive witness, mission strategy and tactics are studied. Individual members write reports on some phase of Christian witnessing; this report is discussed at the club's bi-weekly meetings. Occasionally, panel discussions are conducted ond outside speakers are engaged. It is the hope of the club that each member may more fully appreciate and be better prepared for the high calling in Christ Jesus.

While the Seminarians are busily preparing for their vocation, their wives and fiancees are also thinking and planning for life in the manse. Each month the Seminary Dames, with its sponsor, Mrs. Clarence Bouma, meets for an evening of discussion and fellowship. Rev. Peter Eldersveld struck a note of consecration and zeal in September in his challenging address "Preach the Word." Dr. Garret Heyns discussed an important fact of Christian service at the February meeting. The meetings covered a variety of subjects ranging from a discussion of the impact of Confucianism on Chinese culture to a panel on "What a Lay Woman Expects of Her Minister's Wife". In addition, informal lectures were given. The wives of the Seminary professors were invited to the candle-lit Christmas program at which the talent of the Dames themselves was effectively used.

The high-light of a Saminary Dames meeting is always the social hour at the end of the evening. In providing such opportunities for meeting new friends and in supplying a wide background of experience and ideas from which to draw in dealing with future problems and responsibilities, Seminary Dames fills a very real and vital need in the lives of the Seminary

A BUILDING FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY

Any building is just so much brick and mortar, UNLESS its created for a purpose; we at WFUR feel that our new home is more than just something built by a contractor to house the technical and administrative equipment of our business. Built on a strong foundation of Christian ideals, and purpose, and established to serve this vast community, we're sure that it is A BUILDING FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY.

Never in the history of our great nation has the need been so evident for higher ideals in the field of radio entertainment; the apparent lack of concern for the minds and lives of those who are entertained through this medium is reflected in the high ratio of misconduct of the Youth and Adults of our community. Sensing the need of a higher caliber of programming in secular entertainment WFUR has concentrated its effort to make available to the people of Western Michigan only the finest in family entertainment.

Cultural programs for the comfort and enjoyment of the many who are confined to their homes has received our earnest consideration.

The Church and School, institutions long recognized by all, for the development of character building factors, find WFUR most cooperative in augmenting their curriculum. You as a member of this community, vitally interested in its progressive betterment are invited to share with WFUR its aims and purpose. We welcome you as a constant listener, and to enjoy with the thousands of others, programs which are created for your family's every need for God, Home, and Country.

Sincerely yours.
